

The Captions.

We republish, from the Raleigh Standard, the list of the Captions of the bills and resolutions passed by the General Assembly of 1858-9. The list may be valuable, if not particularly interesting.

By the way, we understand that the bill creating the county of Lillingdon, defining its boundaries and providing for taking the vote of the people within such boundaries as to its acceptance or rejection by them, passed and became a law, but that the supplemental bill, providing for the organization of the county, failed at the close of the session for the want of time. As matters stand, we presume that the vote can be taken, but that the organization of the county, if its creation be ratified and approved by such vote, will have to await the action of the next Legislature. In the event of a decisive vote in favor of making such county, the passage of the supplemental act for its organization will be little more than a matter of form.

The Revenue Law.

We are, by the kindness of the very courteous Chief Clerk of the House, placed in possession of the Revenue Law as it finally passed, with all the last amendments, which have not yet been printed. We give some such paragraphs of the different schedules in full as may be of particular interest; or may differ from the words of the corresponding paragraphs as published by us when originally reported. Paragraphs 16 and 17 of schedule A are as follows:

§16. Every resident surgeon-dentist, physician, lawyer, portrait or miniature painter, daguerrean artist, or other persons taking likenesses of the human face; every commission merchant, factor, producer, broker, and auctioneer; every State and county officer, and every person in the employment of incorporated or private companies, societies, institutions or individuals, and every other person, (except ministers of the gospel and Judges of the Superior and Supreme Courts,) whose annual total receipts and income, (whether in money or otherwise) in the way of practice, salary, fees, wages, perquisites and emoluments, amount to or are worth five hundred dollars or upwards, one per cent. on such total receipts and income.

§17. Every resident of the State that brings into this State, or buys from a non-resident, whether by sample or otherwise, spirituous liquors, wines or cordials for the purpose of sale, ten per cent. on the amount of his purchases. Every person that buys to sell again, spirituous liquors, wines or cordials from the maker in this State, his agent, factor or commission merchant, five per cent. on his purchases.

Schedule A comprises the taxes upon subjects required to be listed.

Paragraphs 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21, of Schedule B, relate to Auctioneers, Merchants, Dealers in Ready Made Clothing and Patent Medicines, and are as follows.—The concluding proviso, of paragraph 19, is wise and liberal beyond any previous revenue law:

§17. Every person that, for himself, or as agent for another at his regular place of business, sells riding vehicles, manufactured on or out of the State, one per cent. on his sales.

§18. Every auctioneer, on all goods, wares or merchandise placed in his hands by a merchant resident in the State, (whether owner or not) or by a commission merchant, five per cent. on the amount of his purchases, and one per cent. on the amount of his sales.

§19. Every merchant, merchant tailor, jeweler, grocer, druggist, apothecary, produce dealer, commission merchant, factor, produce broker, and every other trader, who, as principal, or agent for another, carries on the business of buying or selling goods, wares or merchandise of whatsoever name or description, and who is not taxed on his purchases in some other paragraph of this schedule, one-half of one per cent. on the total amount of his purchases, whether made in or out of the State, and one per cent. on the sale by him of the goods or merchandise so purchased, shall be returned in the amount of purchases, but shall be exempt from taxation.

§20. Every dealer in ready-made clothing (for males) one and one-half per cent. on total amount of purchases.

§21. Every person who for himself, or as agent for another, sells patent medicines or nostrums, ten per cent. on amount of his sales.

We shall publish the bill in full in our next issue.

The Western Extension and the Revenue Law.

It is said that the Democratic party must be responsible for two very dissimilar and even opposite things: The failure to remove certain restrictions from the charter of the Western North Carolina Railroad, this being charged as a sin of omission, and the enactment of a Revenue Law calculated to raise some six to seven hundred thousand dollars, this being charged as a sin of commission. As for the first, the Democracy of the East can hardly be blamed for not sustaining any of the Western projects, since none of these projects received the united support of Western men themselves. They were as much divided on the merits of their own projects as men from the East or Centre could be. It was hardly to be expected—nor hardly could be expected—that the rest of the State should force upon them something over which they themselves could not agree. It was thought by all that the charter granted to the Western Extension in 1854 was a most liberal one. It was felt by many that it pledged the State to an undue amount of money. During the last canvass, the changes upon this debt were rung by the Opposition at the East and in the Centre. Mr. McRae, the candidate for Governor, supported by the Opposition, stated emphatically in the hearing of a large audience at Clinton, that if elected, he would not recommend any measure that would add one dollar to the indebtedness or responsibility of the State.

Well, the Legislature meets. It does just about as well as any Legislature could do under all the circumstances. It does not actually force an amendment to the charter of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, in face of the inability of the peculiar friends of that work to agree among themselves. It does not, in face of the already existing necessity for high taxes, go far out of its way to make that necessity greater or more immediate; and for this the Democratic party is to be attacked by those who rang the changes upon the very debt, for refusing immediately to increase or precipitate which they now find fault with the Democracy. It would be hard, indeed, to demand of the Democracy of the State to decide what the peculiar friends of the Western Extension had themselves failed to agree upon.

But the Revenue Law involves a vast responsibility—it has been denounced as iniquitous, etc. Now, this is all gaudium. The Revenue Law is not perfect. What is perfect? But it is about the best we have yet had. All, or nearly all its changes from former laws have been steps in the right direction. What better could have been done? As for the amount, the only question must be—is that amount necessary to maintain the honor and support the credit of the State? Such was the belief of the Financial Committee, and of the Legislature, and the responsibility of acting upon that belief is one which we trust no Legislature of North Carolina will ever shrink.

We had the pleasure this morning of meeting T. D. McDowell, Esq., the talented and worthy Senator from Bladen, Brunswick and Columbus, who is on his way home from Raleigh, after a long and laborious session, during which he has attended diligently, faithfully and ably to the interests of his constituents and of the State.

We also have had the pleasure of seeing our esteemed friend R. K. Bryan, Esq., one of the Commissioners from this county. Few men have been more attentive to their duties than Mr. Bryan, and we have no doubt that he attended to them not only faithfully, but well.

We had hoped to have seen Hon. Wm. S. Ashe this forenoon, but have not had that pleasure. We are happy to learn that he is in his usual good health. No man deserves it better than our clever Senator.

Mr. Moore, we learn, has also got home, having stood at his post to the last, and is, no doubt, more than pleased to get back. Mr. Moore has been an attentive and working member.—Daily Journal, 18th inst.

Queen Victoria is a grandmother, although she will not be forty until May next. Her daughter became the mother of a boy on the 27th ult. That family does its duty in replenishing the earth.

Without any desire to find fault with our exchanges or the rest of mankind, we may be permitted to say, that a duller set of people than the world in general, and our exchanges in particular, cannot be found. We allude of course to this present day of Our Lord.

We have gone over the whole of a tolerably large and decidedly good exchange list, without finding a steadable idea. The world still says the same things on the same subjects. The staid and sensible Baltimore Sun comes out for Cuba; Vice President Breckinridge says we ought not to talk any longer about acquiring Cuba.—We ought to do. Do what? Go and take it noles volens? The solution of the Cuban question is one of the puzzles of the day. It has opened the fountains of dullness and the streams gush forth in an abundant but unrefreshing stream.

Retrenchment is another great point—quite a hobby—much is said about retrenchment, but really nothing new, and nothing particularly pertinent. The fact is, that all men are willing to retrench all other men. Congress will retrench everything but Congress. We may rest assured that mileage, etc., will not be retrenched. The members of both Houses, and politicians of all shades and stripes, will talk of Cuba, Central America, war and glory generally, while the first things sought to be retrenched are our already inadequate Army and Navy. Not very consistent.

Dullness also presides over the advice from Europe, and the speculations upon them. There will not be war. The world cannot afford the cost. Austria is bankrupt, and France is financially weak and insecure. Speculations do fill up space and round periods.

The weather is fine, and it is a dull business sitting down in the house, culling over papers and writing editorials.

Disingenuous and Unjust.

Some person or persons, wholly unauthorized to speak for anybody but himself or themselves, as the case might be, occupying no position in the Democratic party, but certain ends to subvert, get printed and send to Democratic members of the House of Commons a remarkable foolish document, which the gettters call an appeal to the Democratic members of the House of Commons of North Carolina. To this precious effusion is appended the signature "Many Eastern Democrats." We published the thing promptly at the time that we might as promptly repudiate it. That we might state distinctly, that it did not, and could not speak for Eastern Democrats, nor any Democrats. Indeed, the thing was promptly repudiated by Eastern Democrats even from the section supposed to be interested. How much harm this "appeal" did to the works, the success of which it was designed to promote, we are not able exactly to say, but we feel justified in saying that it did do them harm, and contributed to their defeat.

In face of these known facts, we find the opposition press railing the changes upon this thing, as though Democrats and the Democratic party were responsible for a concern with which they had no connection, and which they utterly repudiate. The writer of that "appeal" must have been a stranger to the Democracy of North Carolina, and ignorant of the class of motives to appeal to, otherwise he would never have hoped to do, feel anything by the document in question.

Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Company. It will be seen by a reference to our advertising columns, that a special meeting of the Stockholders in the above Company, will be held in the town of Wilmington, on the 22d day of March next, for the purpose of considering the provisions of the bill recently passed by the Legislature, in reference to the works of the Company. A full attendance of the Stockholders is particularly desirable, as the question before them will be of the highest importance to the future interests of the Company.

SLAUGHTER AMONG THE RATS.—Between the hours of 7½ and 9 o'clock, on the morning of the 18th inst., Messrs. W. B. Prewitt and J. H. Clark, of Bladen county, killed at the barn of the latter, 444 rats, mostly full grown. This was exclusive of the very little ones that the chickens and dogs eat. Of course they had the assistance of the negro hands and the dogs. Four hundred and forty-four rats are better dead than alive about a barn. They will make mummies when mixed up with lime.

From Mr. Kelley, we have "The Great Republic Monthly" for March, 1859, a very well printed, and, no doubt, excellent Magazine, filled with illustrations. Price 25 cents per month.

Also Gooley's Lady's Book for March, as usual, just the thing for the ladies.

We see that Mrs. W. C. Gladstone, so deservedly a favorite here, is playing a star engagement at the Boston Museum. On Monday she appeared in the character of Lucia Borgia. The Boston papers speak highly of her acting.

Massachusetts versus Virginia. Boston, Feb. 19.—The House Judiciary committee have reported a resolve granting $1,500 to enable Levi Baker to test the constitutionality of the Virginia law levying a tax on coasting vessels.

P. P. P. PARK'S THICKLY PLASTERS.

They scolden pain; they protect the chest; they extract the coagulated humors, and soothe from the system the impure strength; they are divided in sections, and yield to the motion of the body; they are porous; all impure excretions pass off; and they cannot become offensive, hence are freely worn ten times longer than any other plaster, and are cheaper at 25 cents than others at 10. Where these Plasters are, pain cannot exist. Weak persons, public speakers, delicate females, or any affected with side, chest or back pains, should try them. You will then know what they are. They are a new feature in the science of medicine. All Druggists have them. Take no other. Each Plaster bears a Medallion Stamp and our Signature.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER AND PILLS.

For the Destruction of all kinds of Garden Insects, Rats, Beetles, Roaches, Ticks, Fleas, Mosquitoes, Ants and Mice, &c.

What greater trouble, in an hour of ease. Than gnawing rats, bed-bugs and bees. Gardens can be preserved and houses rid of these pests.—It was discovered by Mr. E. Lyon, a French Chemist, in Asia, and has been patronized by all Eastern governments and colleges. Reference can be made wherever the article has been tried. It is free from poison, and harmless to mankind and domestic animals. Many worthless imitations are advertised. Be sure it bears the name of E. Lyon. Remember—
